DEMOCRACY

Gloriously Triumphant from Coast to Coast.

A Sweeping Majority in the House of Representatives.

McKinley Goes Down With the General Republican Wreck.

Pennsylvania Lost to Delamater and Matt Quay.

Massachusetts Carries Russell Grandly to the Top.

It was a great election day for the Democracy everywhere.

The triumph of Democratic hosts extended coast across the country; for though Maine stood fast with its four Republican Congressmen, there was a shake-up next door in New Hampshire, and the shaking-up extended into California.

The complete reversal of the majority in the House of Representatives became apparent with the first returns from the states last night. It grew, after that, constantly more in evidence.

The Fifty-first Congress, after being fixed up through the Republicans' handling of contested election cases in the South, stood 152 to 151 against the Democrats.

The Fifty-second Congress, according to the latest figures of this morning, will have a Democratic majority of from 63 to 97 members.

The McKinley bill has got in its work with a vengeance.

Up to midnight, McKinley himself appeared to have survived the general disaster which his measure had brought upon his party, but later returns, this morning, indicate the probable fall of him, too, is lost to the food.

Indeed, a despatch from Massillon, at 5.10 this morning, announced that Tariff tinkerer by 400 to 700 had beaten the Tariff tinkerer by 400 to 700 bad.

The earlier night returns seemed to fore- shadow Cannon's defeat in Illinois; but later it appeared that for reasons which must appear inscrutable, his constituents had seen fit to return him and his foul mouth to Washington.

The fate of Henry Caton Lodge, of Massachusetts, the author of the infamous Force Bill, hung in the balance for some hours, and when his election was finally assured it was only by a majority of about 1,000, a pronounced drop from the 5,200 majority which secured his previous election.

As to the upper House of Congress, the United States Senate, changes in the State Legislatures of Illinois and New Hampshire make sure the choice of Democrats in place of Senators Farwell and Blair, while like fortune is possible in two other cases.

And the Governors?

Pattison, in Pennsylvania, beats Quay's Republican, Delamater.

Russell, in Massachusetts, runs gloriously away from Republican bracket.

Anstead, in New Hampshire, triumphs over Republican Tuttle.

Morris, in Connecticut, seems probably elected over Merwin, Republican.

Democrats were very hoarse this morning, but their lungs were sore, their hearts were full of joy.

Tammany Democrats were especially sanguined and particularly joyous.

All night long the sleep of citizens who were enthusiastic in their joy was ever and again disturbed by the strains of rejoicing Tammanyites.

"Hugh! Hugh! Hugh!—John!—Grant!" yelled the rejoicing Democrats on every corner.

"Twenty-one thousand; that's enough! Give Frank Scott a pinch of snuff!"

"D—c be Lancy! Rab, rab, rab!" they roared.

Republicans Claims in Iowa.

Special to THE EVENING WORLD.—DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 5.—The State Register claims a plurality of 4,600 to 10,000 for the Republican State ticket in Iowa, expecting this to be made up from the vote in the country townships.

Special to THE EVENING WORLD.—SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 5.—Falter returns this morning, give Wilson, Rep., a majority of 5,000 for Congress. Both branches of the Legislature will be Republicans, with a joint ballot majority of 40.

The Illinois Delegation.

Special to THE EVENING WORLD.—CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The Democrats are probably safe of eight Congressmen out of twenty, Illinois' re-election in the Fifteenth District can hardly be disputed, though his majority is very small.

Missouri's Democratic Delegation.

Special to THE EVENING WORLD.—ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 5.—The Democrats elected eleven Congressmen certainly in Missouri, and probably a solid delegation of twelve. It was a heavy vote, and the Australian system worked well.

THE EVENING WORLD gave the first news last night of the result of the Election. It was on the street with Grant's majority 21 minutes before any other paper.

Took Poison and Died.

Martin Karp, a laborer, of 111 West Twenty-fourth street, took poison this morning, and was removed to the New York Hospital, where he died. He was forty-seven years old.

THE EVENING WORLD gave the first news last night of the result of the Election. It was on the street with Grant's majority 21 minutes before any other paper.

Even the sick stinking, tenderish Liverpool District, that was once represented by the late Robert Hay Hamilton and never sent a Democrat to Albany before, elected W. M. Lawrence, a Democrat, over W. N. Hoag, the Tammany candidate.

John B. V. Arnold was asked to continue as President of the Board of Aldermen by a majority of 25,600 over Hayes, the M. L. candidate.

friends made Rome bow with a brass band, for he had won by a plurality of 116 over Philip Wisinger, the Tammany candidate, and had beaten the "regular" Republican, Samuel Strausberger, by 1,195 votes.

New York elected eight Democratic Congressmen—all she had—in rebuke of the McKinley Tariff but that gives a poor man the advice to wear one out of clothes instead of two under his high pines.

Theodore W. Myers, the honest, capable Comptroller of this big town, got 20,320 votes; his only opponent, William T. Wardell, the Protectionist, got only 1,750 votes.

The race between Police Justice John J. German and William H. Correa, the Fusion candidate for Sheriff, was closer and more exciting, but Judge German won by 5,200 majority.

Leonard A. Giegerich got there for County

LEONARD A. GIEGERICH.

He will have a Democratic majority of eight votes.

The Republicans have only six to spare in the Senate, and that means that the Legislature is Democratic on joint ballot, and that a Democratic United States Senator will be sent to Washington in place of William Maxwell Evans.

The Democrats have regained their control of the New York delegation in Congress, having elected 20 out of 24, a majority of 6. Eight of them are from New York City; Fulton, Duane, Tompkins, and Broome, the whole ticket had won.

The Democrats have elected twenty-two out of the twenty-four Assemblymen, a net gain of two.

The ex-Welder Fred Giese had been elected to stay at home, and James H. Albany, a Democrat, will go to Albany for the Twentieth Assembly District. Giese even ran behind Cowles by 191 votes, and nevertheless beat him 460.
